A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR Pastor Ben Carlsen

Greetings, salutations, and hellos; let me introduce myself one more time – Pastor Ben Carlsen, called by all of you to serve as Pastor here at First Lutheran Church in Bottineau, ND. Some of you reading this have met me and introduced yourselves to me already, and to you I say "thank you" and "I'm sorry, but could you repeat your name." And to those I have yet to meet, I look forward to being introduced and also asking repeatedly for your names. God may know each of us so intimately that the hairs of our heads are numbered, but for me, it's going to take me a bit of time to learn your names and faces and the community connections, so I humbly ask for your patience and pardon should I neglect to put a face with a name or say "hello" on the street.

Having said that, I am sure you are all aware of the effort to have a series of "meet and greet" events with medium size groups of congregational members. I know the council is working hard on organizing the groups and finding people to host. My vision for these events is first of all to have an opportunity to meet and greet as many of you as possible in an informal setting. I encourage all of you to find a group to be a part of or consider serving as a host for a group.

Even with these meet and greets, I will still suggest it is going to take some time for me to learn who all of you are, but let me shorten the time it may take all of you to get to know a bit about me. I know you all received a bio letter prior to your vote to call me, so some of what follows may be repetitive, but allow me to share the following with you: As you know, my name is Ben Carlsen, I have been serving in pastoral ministry since June of 2000. From 2000-2007 I served a three point parish in Drayton, ND; from 2007-2010 I served Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Sebeka, MN; from 2010-2016 I served as Associate Pastor of the Redeemer/Black River Lutheran Parish in Thief River Falls, MN; and from Nov of 2016 – April of 2017 I served as Interim Pastor at First Lutheran Church in Mahnomen, MN.

I grew up in the Red River Valley, in Climax, graduating from Climax High School in 1990 and enrolling at the University of Minnesota at Duluth. Following college I worked in the Twin Cities area for a couple of years and enrolled at Luther Seminary in January of 1996. In August of 1998, Pia and I were married and we currently have in our house, two dogs – Syntyche (who is ours) and Tomah (who we are puppy raising for Leader Dogs for the Blind) and one cat – Tobit.

I am excited to be here, living among and serving you at First Lutheran. I look forward to walking together in ministry here and learning and going where God is leading us in proclamation, service, and love.

In Christ, Pastor Ben

MENTAL ILLNESS

5 Simple things you can do to make the world a better place for people with mental illnesses and their families

Faith and spirituality can be a very helpful component of someone's recovery from mental illness. A place of worship is a safe space where people can feel welcomed and have an instant sense of support and community, but how they are treated within this environment is crucial to that feeling of security.

1. Be a friend

Provide companionship and compassion on the road toward recovery. Offer a ride to your house of worship or to a local support group. Listen without judgement. Pray for those you know with mental illnesses and for their family members.

2. Be an inspiration

Share your story. Has mental illness impacted you or your family in some way? Your story may empower others to seek treatment or have hope.

Watch your language Pay attention to the words you use and avoid stigmatizing labels. Do not refer to people as "crazy," "psycho," "lunatic" or "mental." Use Person First language. For example, say "She is a person with bipolar disorder" instead of "She is a bipolar."

3. Be a "Stigma Buster"

Challenge negative attitudes toward mental illness among your friends and acquaintances and in the media.

4. Learn the facts

Educate yourself about the various mental illnesses. Attend a lecture or class or use the Internet. Good places to start include the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), www.nami.org, NAMI FaithNet, www.nami.org/NAMIFaithnet, and the National Institute of Mental Health, www.nimh.nih.gov.

Adapted from the Widen the Welcome campaign of the United Church of Christ. 5/2017

Because 1 in 5 Americans lives with a mental health condition, you likely encounter people with a mental illness in your family or in your daily life. Stigma and myths around mental illness can make us nervous about how to relate to someone. If you are unsure of how best to approach someone who may be struggling, these tips may help.

Tips for How to Help a Person with Mental Illness

Find a space that is comfortable, where you won't likely be interrupted and where there are minimal distractions.

Ease into the conversation. It may be that the person is not in a place to talk, and that is OK. A greeting and a gentle kindness can go a long way. Sometimes less is more.

Be sure to speak in a relaxed, calm and straightforward manner and stick to one topic at a time.

Be respectful, compassionate and empathetic to their feelings by engaging in reflective listening, such as "I hear that you are having a bad day today. Yes, some days are certainly more challenging than others. I understand."

Be a good listener, be responsive and make eye contact with a caring approach.

Speak at a level appropriate to the person's age and development level. Keep in mind that mental illness has nothing to do with a person's intelligence.

Show respect and understanding for how they describe and interpret their symptoms.

Genuinely express your concern. Be real and authentic.

Offer your support and connect them to help if you feel that they need it. Ask, "How can I help?" if appropriate, or even, "Can I pray with you now?" if appropriate.

Give the person hope for recovery, offer encouragement and prayers.

Prayer: God who has created us all. May we be good companions to each other in life's journey and have the courage to reach out to those who need our love and care.

MISSION ACTION NEWS JUNE 2017

Please sign up for a shift at the Bottineau County Fair if you are able. This is the main fundraiser for WELCA and gives us the means to support our missions both at home and abroad. Just remember what a difference you are making to a mother in a refugee camp or a victim of an earthquake or countless others who are the "least of these" (the least of God's children) who find themselves in dire situations.

Here is a perfect example of "God's Work, Our Hands"

May was a very busy month. For the first time in years First Lutheran gathered items for a spring shipment to Lutheran World Relief. Members of Debra Circle stayed after their Bible study two months since the fall shipment and packed 16 Baby Kits. Michelle Anderson visited circle and assisted with the project. The Girl Scouts under the leadership of Sady Wall helped assemble some of the Personal Care kits. We ended up with 62 personal care kits to send. These have a towel, toothbrush, nail clipper, soap, and a sturdy comb. Susan Dahle and I finished up these by securing each with rubber bands and yarn. Harvey and Coral Hoff transported 16 boxes to Minot. Along with the baby and personal care kits, this also included 16 quilts.

Thank you one and all! It takes close to an army of willing workers to pull this off.

Keep watching for deals on kit items and let me know if you see any. A few of us shopped the Domestic Violence rummage sale and purchased sleepers, t-shirts and blankets for the baby kits. We are in need of flannel to make the larger diapers of 22" by 27". These are the preferred size as they dry faster for reuse. We have included two large diapers and two made from t-shirts in each kit. The flannel can be any color and even old flannel sheets. Dark colors are preferred because there are often washed in a river.

First Lutheran Church offers $50.00 to go toward camp registration fees for Metigoshe Campers whether it is their first time or fifth time going. Please note that a copy of the registration form will be needed before payment will be sent to the camp.

WOW, ANOTHER ONE OF THE SPIRITUAL GIFTS ... YOU GUYS ARE AWESOME

FINDING YOUR GIFTS!

Hear are a few questions to ask yourself to help you find where God is calling you to serve.

- What comes easily and naturally to me?
- Others come to me for help with ?
- What interests me?
- Where do people say I excel?
- What excites and interest me?
- For what do I have a passion?
- As a child, I was really good at _____? ___
- As an adult, I'm really good at ?

We all struggle with discerning what God given gifts and or talents we have. I pray this helps you discover that you have so much to give and so many ways to bring glory to God, and that you will grow in your faith as you use your gifts and talents to serve others.

Gospel Seeds - June 2017 Monthly Update from Western ND Synod Staff

With Joy and Thanksgiving!

Three young people who call Western North Dakota home have been selected to serve as Young Adults in Global Mission this year. YAGM's spend a year serving as missionaries in locations around the world. The three are: Christian Aardahl (Faith Lutheran, Bismarck), Molly Haagenson (Gloria Dei, Williston) and Krista Mathistad (Bethany, Minot). At Synod Assembly, we will have a brief service of blessing and sending for these three. We will also raise prayers of thanksgiving for two Western North Dakota young adults who have recently completed their YAGM service: Carrie Sandstrom (Good Shepherd, Bismarck) and Solveig Stenslie (Heart River Lutheran, Mandan). Each person accepted to serve as a YAGM must raise $5,000 to be a part of the program. The Synod Office is willing to collect funds from any individual or congregation who would like to help support these three young people. If you send a donation, please indicate it is for the YAGM participants.

Discernment Retreat... With so many voices vying for our attention, how do we learn to listen to the voice of God? Matt O'Rear, staff person at one of our seminaries, will spend time sorting through some of the predominant voices competing for our attention - voices that stake a claim on who we should be, what we should value, and what makes us happy. We will spend time thinking about the voice of God which lays claim on our lives and how following that call might help us find a sense of purpose, meaning, and even joy. This retreat is designed to assist those who are wondering if God may be calling them to leadership as a pastor, deacon or another leadership role within their own congregation or synod. Bishop Mark Narum and staff will also be present for conversations about candidacy and opportunities to serve throughout the church. The retreat is planned for June 23-24 at Camp of the Cross near Garrison. Visit the synod website to register.

MEMBERS

USE!

YOU HAVE GIFTS THAT GOD IS CALLING YOU TO

No More Volunteers! I want to challenge you to remove the word "volunteer" FIRST LUTHERAN from your church's vocabulary. Instead, I want to encourage a conversation around the way people have been given incredible gifts. Instead of volunteers to prepare and serve meals at church, we should think of them as ministers of PLEASE READ THIS: hospitality. A meal served following a funeral is a gift, prepared and served by those with special talents. The conversation which flows over that meal is a healing balm for a grieving family. Those who step up to work with youth are more than volunteers – they are individuals with special gifts of patience, relationship building, the wisdom to listen to a good question and ask more questions in return. This is important ministry which helps young people grow in faith. While it may sound insignificant to change the language we use, it can be very profound - especially if we take the time to engage people in conversation about their passions and gifts. Once they have been identified, then further conversation can help identify ways these gifts and passions can be used to love and care for the neighbor. That is ministry at its very best.

A Time For Creativity... We continue to experience a significant number of pastoral openings across our synod. We are thankful for the congregations who are thinking creatively about new ways to provide Christ-centered Word and Sacrament Ministry in their communities. -A group of fourteen congregations in the very southwest part of our synod are having a conversation about what a cooperative ministry would look like in their area. About two years ago, conversations among this grouping of congregations lead to the creation of an area-wide Bible study with eighteen participants.-Another congregation in our synod has two people who will be entering seminary while serving their congregation. -A congregation on the western edge of the synod is taking the first steps toward a conversation with one of our ecumenical partners about a shared ministry which will benefit both congregations. What opportunities for creative ministry will be next? Who knows? We are only limited by our imaginations and our willingness to experiment. We continue to pray for the Holy Spirit's nudges.
